

Dear System User,

In order to better clarify specific questions concerning the introduction of the Commodity Tariff, here are the answers to the main questions arisen. We hope this is useful!

1. When is the Commodity Tariff going to be introduced?

The commodity tariff applies as of 1 June, 2022.

2. How much is the Commodity Tariff?

➤ for all entry points: 0,08552 EUR/MWh

➤ for all exit points: 0,31829 EUR/MWh

These tariffs apply for all types of capacity, (freely allocable FZK, dynamically allocable DZK, interruptible UK).

3. When and how will I receive my invoice for the Commodity Tariff?

The invoicing will be performed within 5 working days following the 15th calendar day of the month with a 30-day payment deadline. The first invoicing will be therefore performed as of 15 June 2022 for nomination period 01 June 2022 06:00 until 15 June 2022, 06:00. The successive invoicing will be performed as of 15 July 2022, for nomination period from 15 June, 06:00, 2022 until 15 July 2022 06:00, and so on. Invoicing documents will be sent per email to the contacts maintained in TAG GmbH's Commercial Platform.

4. How does the invoicing mechanism work?

In order to determine the Commodity Tariff to be invoiced to System Users every Balance Group Member shall have the option to allocate its nominations to a specific Sub-Balance Account within its own Balance Group. If this specific allocation is not made, the commodity-based charge shall be invoiced through a pro rata-mechanism.

6. What shall I do in case my capacity is given to another Party by Transfer of use?

The Commodity Tariff will be invoiced to the System User who has a capacity contract with TAG GmbH. In case of transfer of use, a Balance Group Responsible Party receiving capacity from multiple System Users shall create a specific Sub-balance Account.

7. Is the Commodity Tariff going to vary in the future?

According to Paragraph 5 of the "Supplement to annex 3 of the Gas System Charges Ordinance 2013 – 2nd Amendment 2022" published by E-Control: "A rise in gas, electricity and CO2 prices has meant a considerable increase in the prices for compression energy. To account for this price increase, the capacity-based transmission tariffs described in chapters 1 through 4 are supplemented by a commodity-based Tariff from 1 June 2022. It applies for the historical and forecasted additional costs in connection with the significantly increased prices for energy (esp. for gas). Considering that a Commodity Tariff is inherently volatile, it will be evaluated annually and revised when necessary."

Therefore, for any update in this regard, refer to the website of E-Control Austria as competent Authority.

For any further information we stay at your disposal.

Best regards,
